would miss the appendage, and began writing about the country to those who had offered to sell their ears for $5,000, making a new offer of $1,000.

The story came out through the visit to Doctor C. V. Stebbins of this city to a Hungarian miner, who before accepting the offer wished an assurance that it would be safe.

Incidentally, the man who sold his ear for $5,000 will replace it for $1,000 and be $4,000 ahead as payment for the two months he will have to stay in a hospital.

succeeded to that of Lieutenant Governor When Senator Dietrich was elected to the United States Senate.

The appointment of a Postmaster at Fairbury, the home of Governor Steele, was under consideration by the jurors, and Mr. Steele and W. F. Broderick were witnesses. The testimony of the former was taken at this time to determine whether further investigation should be made. As a result of to-day's evidence several other witnesses will be called.

Steele refused to state the nature of his evidence, but said he was critically questioned by the jurors.

No indictments were returned to-day, the investigations being conducted in several chemselves.

Senator Dietrich's trial is not expected to come up before January, as the District Attorney expects to be occupied with the Grand Jury for two weeks, and the preparation of the Government's case will take considerable time.

That the State is awakening to the necessity of speedy action on the battleship testimonial fund is shown by the subscription of West Plains citizens, received by

The Republic, amounting to $30.25.

This, with the contribution sent in by Governor Dockery Wednesday, may spur the Mayors of towns that have as yet falled to contribute to greater effort so that all the State may participate in this patriotic fund

Assuring responses to letters recently sent out indicate that the State share of the fund will soon be coming in rapidly to the treasurer. The Mayors of about 300 towns have been asked to aid in raising the fund, and many of them have already appointed committees in their towns to have charge of the details. The following letter was received with the contribution from the citizens of West Plains from Will H. Zorn, editor of the Gazette and correspondent of The Republie in that cit;:

To the Editor of The Republic, West Plains, Me., I)ec. 2, 1993.—Dear Sir: Inclosed find draft for $30.75 as a contribution from the citizens of West Plains, in the "Laul of the Big Red Apple," for the worthy caus-of which The Republic is the originator that of securing a testimonial for the fastest battleship affont, the Bussouri.

This amount was raised by Colonel O. H. P. Catron and Postmaster A. T. Hollenbeck, and was collected within an hour. Had we been fortunate in having a candidate for a State office in this city we doubtless could have raised the donation in half the time. Yours raised the donation in half the time. Yours very truly, (Signed)

Individual subscriptions are being received daily from those parts of the State where no organized fund is in progress and in some cases checks have been received from those who were unable to participate in the organized fund.

Reports received at the Manufacturers' Association indicates that their fund will be largely increased through the action of committees that have requested more time for the work.

Subscriptions were received at the Merchants' Exchange. The principal one of these was a check to close the Engineers' Club subscription. The total turned in by Professor John L. Van Ornum, member of the general committee ampointed by Mayor Wells, was $124.90. This result of the work of his subcommittee. Professor Van Ornum says, is an indication of what can be accomplished by steady and consistent work, even in so small an organization as the Engineers' Club. He wishes to thank the members of his committee, through The Republic, for their hearty co-operation.

As no reports have been received from

The Republic, for their hearty co-operation.

As no reports have been received from many of the leading committees appointed by Mayor Wells, a follow-up letter will shortly be sent out by Chairman T. R.
Ballard, asking that they report their progress as soon as possible so that the general committee may know how the work is progressing.

Blanks for subscriptions have been sent the various heads of the departments at the City Hall and it is thought that many of the city's employes will wish to be enrolled among those who contribute to the fund.

The most serious is that a letter, purporting to be from Judge Redwine to Beekham, asking for withdrawal of soldiers, is a forgery for the purpose of getting the troops away in order to start the feuds again. Another is that an attempt was made on Judge Hargis's life by a man thrusting a pistol in his face, which was knocked from the man's hands. Soldiers fear treuble will be renewed.

Creditors' Trustee Announces That He Will Sell Rialto Company's President's Interest.

JUDGE SALE RECEIVES OFFER.

Probable That Fifty Per Cent of Grain and Securities Company's Indebtedness May Be Liquidated.

Circuit Judge Moses N. Sale, trustee for the creditors' attorneys of the Rialto Grain and Securities Company, said yesterday that he would advertise the equity of Hugh C. Dennis in the Hotel Monticello Company, for sale at the Courthouse to-day to pay the cebts of the Rialto Company, of which Dennis is president. Judge Sale made the statement after a meeting of the attorneys for the creditors of the Rialto Company, yesterday after-noon in the office of Judge Sale's brother, Lee Sale, in the Commercial building, Sixth and Olive streets

The meeting was called to consider a proposition, which Judge Sale had re-ceived through the Germania Trust Company, for a settlement with the Rialto Dennis in the Hotel Monticello Company.

Dennis holds 250 shares of preferred stock in the company and 502 shares of common stock. He ower $22,000 on the stock, which is said to be worth about $40,000. Company's creditors in the interest of Judge Sale said there is a floating indebtedness against the company of about $2.00, which has a preference over Dennis's interest.

The claim of $2.000 is held by L. C. Irvine, from whom the stock was purchased. Dennis brought suit to restrain Irvine from selling the stock.

Circuit Judge Douglas, before whom the suit was tried, will render his decision in the case next Monday. Its import is said to be against Dennis.

Judge Sale said the proposition which he received was to the effect that notes for $11,000 would be given for Dennis's interest in the Hotel Monticello Company, secured by the 502 shares of common stock held by him, and that the stock would be made clear of all other incumbrance. Also, that Dennis's interest in the 250 shares of preferred stock should be relinquished.

Judge Sale said he was not informed as to who are behind the proposition.

The creditors' attorneys, he said, regarded the proposition favorably, but did not authorize him to accept it, but that he has the authority to sell Dennis's equity in the Hotel Monticello Company, as Dennis has defaulted in his agreement to pay 50 per cent of the claims against the Rialto Company.

Judge Sale stated that the creditors' attorneys could have Dennis's equity bought in by some one, who could accept the proposition to sell for $11,000 and apply the amount in the payment of the claims against the Rialto Company.

He said that he holds as additional security for the payment of the claims against the Rialto Company.

He said that he holds as additional security for the payment of the claims against the Rialto Company.

He said that he holds as additional security for the payment of the claims against the Rialto Company which is located in Michigan. The stock, he said, is worth about $11,000.

Judge Sale said that as the amount which Dennis agreed to pay to the Rialto creditors is $22.00, if the deal to settle the Hotel Monticello Company interest for $11,000 is made, the creditors will be paid about the amount agreed upon.

while the character and quality of the goods insure for them lasting appreciation.

The holiday offerings include only the best of everything in diamond and pearly develry, fine watches, gold and silver jewelry and novelties, as well as the more useful solid silverwares, china, cut glass and silver-plated goods.

In the collection of art wares the choicest specimens of the most famous makers in the world are represented. No difficulty should be had in selecting an appropriate gift for any one who appreciates beautiful things, for in this collection are guthered in profusion treasures of art, embracing china and pottery vases, Italian marbles. Venetian and Japanese bronzes, Japanese lvories and silverware. Benares brass goods. Cloisonne vases and teakwood carvings.

This collection of art goods is located on the balcony, an addition to which has recently been built, giving needed space and a destrable place for the exhibition.

An interesting feature is an exhibition of Japanese silverwares. These articles have proven a revelation to those whose impressions of Japanese art were chiefly of china, pottery, cloisonne and lacquered goods. The Japanese excel in the making of the last named articles, but for artistic conception, originality of design and perfection of execution their work in solid silver is marvelous.

Everything is effectively displayed and with special regard to the convenience of the holiday shopper. Additional salesmen and heip have already been employed, so great has been the rush.
